

SHORT MISSION

ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW ACCORDING TO ISO14001

CLIENT

Ascenda AB is an IT company that manages both expertise in consultants and solutions in the form of system and cloud solutions to companies. Its customers are mainly located in Västra Götaland and in industries such as automotive, manufacturing industry etc. The company specializes in SharePoint / Office365 / Azure. Ascenda is in an expansive stage and will grow organically with both staff and new businesses / customers in the next few years – environmental consulting may be one such business.

A certification according to ISO14001 is not only as a requirement from many of its major customers but also a proof of quality for the organization to be proud of.

TASK

Do you want to perform your first own EMS investigation? Are you interested in getting to know a consultancy firm in an expansive phase, with possible future opportunities for environmental consulting? Ascenda wants to certify its business according to ISO14001. Since the company is a rather small office operation, this EMS project is suitable as a short mission. It is perfect for students with knowledge about EMS who want to try their first very own project. The task includes creation of the following:

- Environmental review of the client
- Environmental policy for the client
- Environmental objectives and programs
- Environmental procedure
- List of regulations & laws applicable to your client
- Stakeholder inventory and analysis
- Internal audit plan
- SWOT analysis

This project is perfect for students pursuing a future as an environmental or sustainability consultant. The project can be conducted in either Swedish or English.

Prerequisites

We are looking for university students with prior experience in working with the ISO14001 standard, for instance as part of a university course.

Scope

The Short Mission is done parallel to your studies. You are expected to spend 10-20 hours on the task, freely distributed over approximately one month in time. The Mission is designed for two students, feel free to sign up together with a friend. If you sign up alone, Miljöbron will try to pair you with another applicant.
